

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF RIGHT TO ATTORNEY

My SPOUSE, and I have decided to get a divorce. My Spouse has hired the law offices of O. Yale Lewis III, LLC, ("Law Firm") to facilitate a settlement. The goal of the process is to develop a comprehensive settlement of our debts and assets, parenting plan, child support, and maintenance.

However, the Law Firm represents SPOUSE. The Law Firm does NOT represent me. I understand that I have the right to hire my own attorney to represent me in the dissolution. I may consult with said attorney, or any other third party, at any time during the process, except during the settlement conferences themselves. In addition, I may ask the attorney to review any final papers that may come out of the process.

I will only attend the settlement conferences if I think they will be productive. I will not sign any final papers if I do not think the papers are in my best interest. I enter this process of my own free will, not subject to any duress or undue influence.
